

EPIC → Communication Framework

Empathy → to understand feelings, perspectives & situation of other person

→ to understand where they come from, their knowledge & understanding

★ ★ → Giving space for others to express themselves (Ask questions)

Empathy ≠ Sympathy

Being empathetic makes the person feel understood, appreciated & heard. #

Active Listening ↔ Empathy

ACTIVE LISTENING TECHNIQUES

	1. Reflecting and repeating	• Summarizing – “So would it be right to say there are three main issues ...,” “It sounds like you’re saying” • Describing – “You seem upset by that,” “It sounds like you felt angry with him”
	2. Supporting and encouraging	• Encouraging – “Yes, I see,” “Of course,” expressions (e.g., smiling), open body stance • Validating – “If I were in your situation, I’d feel the same way,” nodding/shaking head • Imagining – “I can imagine it’s frustrating for you”
	3. Digging deeper	• Clarifying – “Why do you think that happened?” “Which of those issues came first?” • Open – “How are you feeling about the project?” “What’s going on for you this week?”
	4. Offering help	• Personal – “Is there anything I can do to help?” • Hypothetical – “What would you like to happen in an ideal world?” “How can we make that a reality?”

PURPOSE

↳ Realistic
 ↳ Actionable
 ↳ Specific

} due to limited time & resources

Purpose → your needs and wants after interaction
 considering what others want to have from the interaction

1. firstly understanding what person's background & knowledge on the topic → get clarity over what is realistic achievable & not.
2. What are goals?
3. What are goals of others?

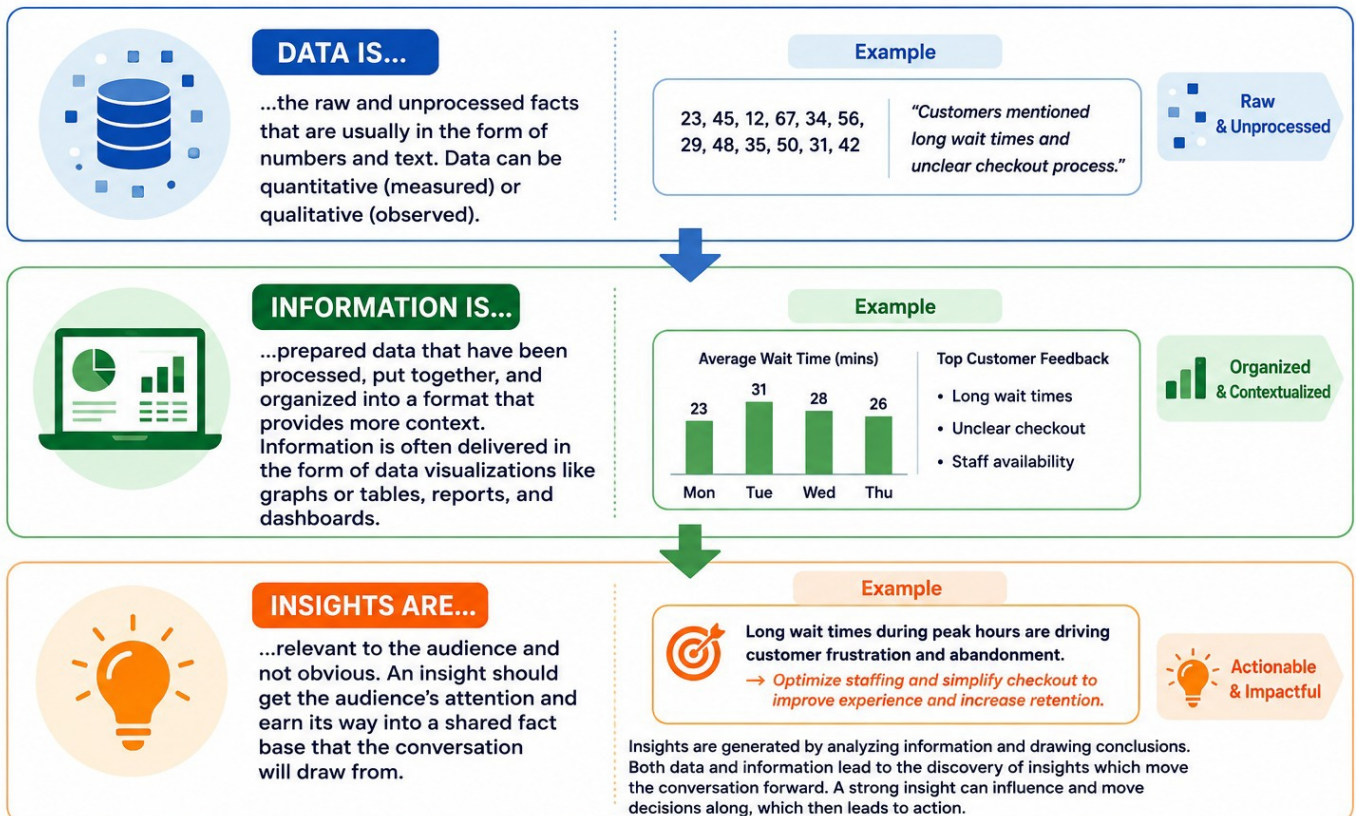

While your intentions may have been good pivoting the meeting to focus on Digital's concerns, this resulted in an over-compromise away from your own priorities to focus on team-building, which you had deemed critical to a successful start. It's important as a leader to maintain healthy boundaries and a focus on the key issues, while balancing the need to compromise with others.

INSIGHTS $\neq$ DATA & INFORMATION
"So What" "Pie of text"

Next part is to start tell to present your insights in a compelling & persuasive way.

DATA → INFORMATION → INSIGHTS

Check each heading to learn more on the differences between data, information, and insight.

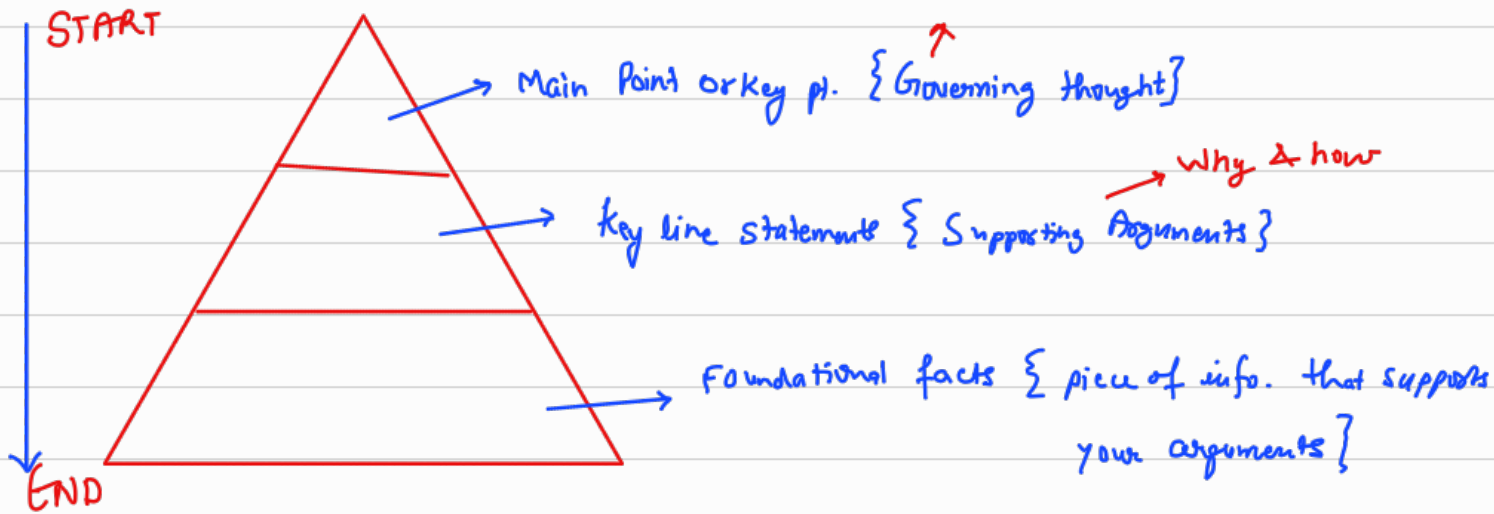

Next Organise Communication ✓

↳ Be authentic & Simple
↳ facts must be organised to form a message.

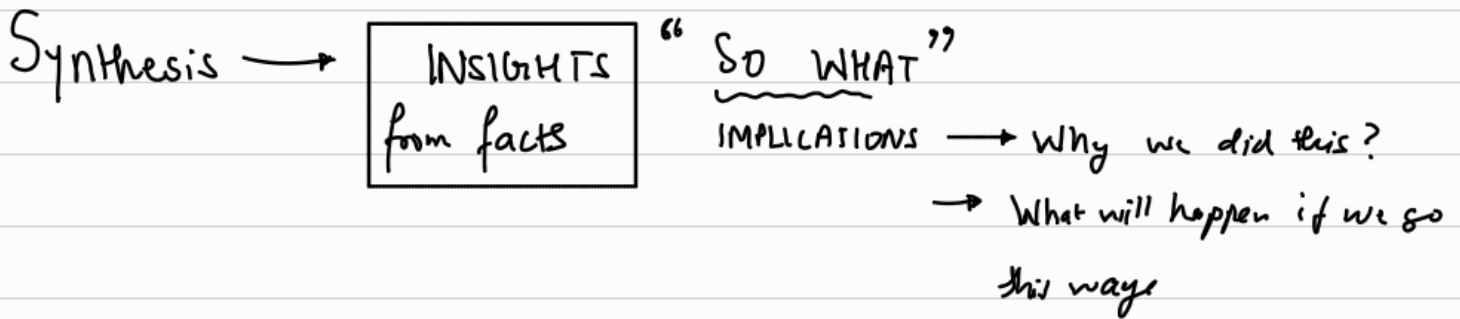

PYRAMID PRINCIPLE

Answer to the question you're trying to answer

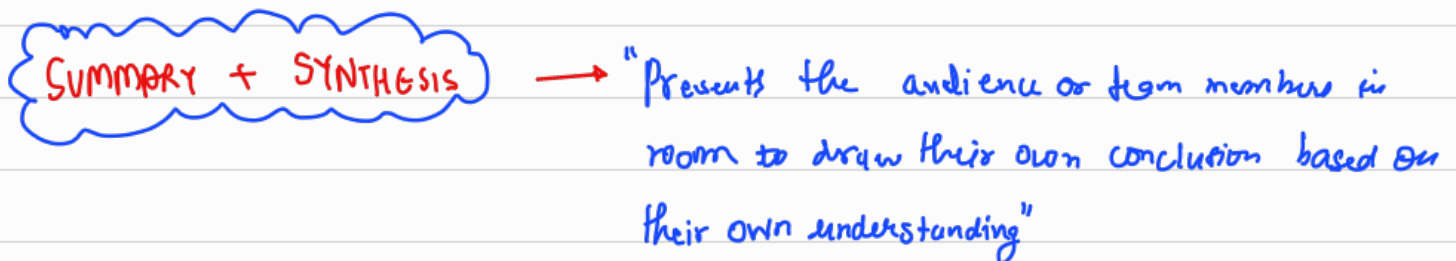

(Communication process)

however building before that is always "BOTTOM" → "TOP"

SUMMARY → Re-Articulation of the same facts

Absence of Synthesis may lead to

- Opportunity Lost
- Credibility Lost
- Waste of time

Storylining → crucial part of deciding which argument to put first or at last.

ETHOS PATHOS LOGOS

Three Elements of Style

Physical Presence

1. Body Language
2. Expressions
3. Gesture

{How you move, walk, stand}

Vocal emphasis

1. Tone
2. Intonation
3. Pitch
4. Pace
5. Volume

{The emotions you bring on}

Make eye contact

while always talking
whether a single person,
small, medium or large
group

→ No one understands jargons → Simplify it

→ No one can visualise by words → demonstrate it

Facilitators → make something easier

Being a facilitator doesn't mean to be an expert of topic
rather a great facilitator is curious and in there
asking questions
